KOSTOFF SEEN AT NEEDLES

Jack Grant, chief of police, has received information about the movements of Steve Kostoff, suspected of killing A. J. Finnerty in front of the Casino last week. The shooting occurred November 13 at eight o'clock in the evening and next day the trail led to the cabin of Kostoff where a 38 caliber revolver with one chamber discharged, was found. In the meantime Kostoff had disappeared and was supposed to be running in the direction of Old Mexico. Acting on this theory the chief sent out wires to all railroad junctions south of Tonopah and yesterday received a message stating that the fugitive had been in Needles. Furthermore an important admission was secured from a former friend who was told by Kostoff that Finnerty hit him twice and knocked him down. Kostoff did not lose much time in getting out of Tonopah for the evidence shows that he was in Needles November 16.

DETECTS SOUND UNDERGROUND

One of the interesting instruments used in connection with the work of Mine Rescue Car No. 1, now stationed here for another week, is the geophone, which is employed for detecting sound underground. The accuracy of the device has been tested to the extent of proving conductivity and locating sounds to within five degrees of the actual spot. Of course the chief use would be in locating signals from entombed miners, but it may also be used in checking surveys. Tests have demonstrated that sound has been detected through 1,000 feet of solid rock while through clay or coal the radius is 600 feet. With a new diagram just received, it is believed that the scope of the instrument will be extended 50 per cent.

The car was originally routed over the Las Vegas & Tonopah railroad to the mining districts of Clark and Lincoln counties and it was not known until reaching Nevada that the railroad had been torn up and shipped to China. On this account the itinerary has been changed so the car will leave Tonopah for a short stay in Goldfield and then proceed over the Tonopah & Tidewater to Death valley, where a class will be instructed at the borax mine. The next stop will be at Goodsprings where the car will go to Pioche.

SAMPLES FROM ALASKA STRIKE

Alaska is waiting impatiently for the spring, a spring that will bring a stampede the like of which has not been known since the days of the Klondike, according to J. W. Minnis, who was well known in Goldfield during the days of 1904 and who arrived in Tonopah Saturday from the far north.

It is the Talkeetna mountains that have revealed the Midas promise with an open vein which runs for one thousand feet jutting above the surface of the earth and showing 30 per cent of copper, thirty ounces of silver and from $3 to $4 of gold to every ton, Minnis says.

"Our railroad is assured now," he added, "and the country through which that road will run is rich in mineral, lying almost upon the route of the anticipated extension." It means a stampede in the spring, for word of the strike has permeated the north and has made its way to the old prospectors on the outside, and they are all just waiting for the season to open.

MARIETTA SHOWS HIGHGRADE ORE

R. B. Shepherd, one of the early day leasers in Tonopah, has opened a highgrade mine at Marietta, which carries from $500 to $800 a ton. Mr. Shepherd was one of the bosses on the Sinclair lease in 1901 and since then has been identified with numerous prospects in southern Nevada and for the past few years has been operating around Mina making quicksilver locations. Recently he located what promises to be one of the richest silver properties, carrying silver bromide. This is located two and a half miles north of Marietta, the old silver camp which in the years between 1870 and 1880 shipped millions from its mine. The new find is controlled by a company known as the Shepherd Silver Mines corporation of Nevada and the officers are all connected with the Crocker National bank of San Francisco. The ore can be delivered to the railroad at Marietta with a twelve mile haul and the railroad shipment is ready to be loaded out for the sampler at Elko. It is estimated that the average value of this shipment will be $500 with a nice percentage in gold. The shipment is coming from surface trenching and development work is going on to cut the ledge with a tunnel that is now in sixty feet and is expected to reach the 100 feet level. The company owns one and a half claims.

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, Nov. 24.—The sudden departure from Paris of the commission headed by Herr von Simson, delegated by the German government to sign for Germany the protocol guaranteeing enforcement of the peace treaty and to exchange ratifications of the document, is regarded in American peace delegation circles as having close connection with news of adjournment of the United States senate without ratification of the treaty. American opinion, however, does not agree with the majority of French criticism that the Germans are using the failure of the senate to ratify the peace treaty as a pretext for avoiding fulfillment of peace terms.
